Sweltering weather drives people to beaches and tourist spots to spend time in the sun. Few days ago, an angry Diana broke through the isle of Barbuda in the Caribbean. Diana is powerful and hot. It has been moving north and it will continue doing this till it goes north of Miami. It will be tropical storm until it goes north of Miami. That is why most of the forecasts have Diana being a tropical storm. This storm does not have the firepower to be called hurricane. All that said, Diana is packing strong winds, rough surf and thunderstorms.

Meteorologists are saying that there will be heavy rain in Puerto Rico, Dominican Republic, St. Thomas, St. Croix and US Virgin Islands. Diana is heading north and will affect many people in the Caribbean. If you are going to be on the US East coast, you should probably be ready for bad weather. Lions, tigers, bears, rhinos, jaguars and tapirs of the world are facing the loss of their natural habitat. As civilization develops, more and more land is being claimed for development. In Central America, New Zealand and Australia you can find land being claimed for water. In Central and South America, they are clearing land to make way for cattle ranches. There are also plans for some biofuel plantations. Many environmentalists believe that the environmental movement is too slow to respond to this problem. Some believe that the environmental movement needs to merge with the animal rights movement in order to prevent the loss of animals. The loss of habitat is not limited to wild animals. Livestock farmers are destroying valuable and attractive rain forests to make room for cattle farms and wood plantations. What can we do? We need to preserve habitat for animals

The Windows screensavers listed on our site are in full-screen display. To unlock your desktop, you should click on the "ScreenSavers" menu and then select "screensavers" tab. Please choose your screensaver from the "screensavers" menu. Comments This is an interesting software. I have it installed, but the current time is always read as the time when I started installing it, so it is 5 minutes off. If I could set the time it is set to, then it would not be an issue. I'd like to get rid of the change option and not be able to shut the application down. You can set the time as read by clicking on the "start" button on the top left corner of the program. It will change the time to what you set, but the time will only be set when you start or close the program. You can only change the time when the program is running. The only way you can get rid of the time setting is to not use the clock function and just use the time setting. Another problem I have is that I installed it and it did not install correctly (perhaps there is a problem in the way that it is offered through screen savers. I installed it, launched it, then shut it down. I then went to install another screen saver and it came up with this message: "Could not connect to: Error: Unable to create location
